A vintage black and white photograph of a schoolyard. In the background, there is a building with three large garage doors. Several cars are parked in the lot, including a light-colored sedan in the center and a darker car to the left. In the foreground, three students are standing on a paved area. The student on the left is a girl in a dark dress, the middle one is a boy in a light-colored shirt and dark pants, and the one on the right is a girl in a light-colored dress. They are all looking towards the camera. The overall tone is nostalgic and slightly grainy.

MARY

Frosh Day, our initiation into O. L. A. enabled us to demonstrate our talents as we became transformed into fairy-tale characters by the Seniors. We laughed and blushed at our antics. . . . October 2, 1970. The constitutionality of the 1970 Voting Rights Law, including the amendment lowering the voting age from 21 to 18 in the United States was upheld by a panel of three Federal Court judges in Washington.

Our presentation of the play "The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden" was the setting for our celebration of our big sisters' Ring Day. We sang the song "I'll be There" by the Jackson 5 for them. Our mistakes were bypassed with a few giggles and eye rollings. . . . May, 1971. Anti-war protesters in Washington D. C. fail in their attempt to close down the United States government; more than 7,000 arrests, a record for the city, are made.

In the tradition of the Sophomore Christmas Play, we presented the story of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" to the faculty and students. Later Santa Claus and his elves visited with all. To end the day on a festive note, we sang joyously in anticipation of the seasonal celebrations. . . December, 1971. United States command in Saigon announced the end of intensified bombing of Viet Nam after five days.

In observance of Arbor Day we planted a Flowering Magnolia tree on the Academy grounds and read the governor's Proclamation. The song we sang, "Morning Has Broken" by Cat Stevens, truly proclaimed the bursting of newness and life. We buried our time capsule containing all those things that meant something to us: a class tie, a cigarette, a picture, a Biology lab fish. With this we left some remains of our past and present for those who would live in the future. . . . April, 1972. After three days of talks during a goodwill visit from President Nixon, Canada Prime Minister Pierre E. Trudeau and his guest signed a landmark treaty calling for a massive program to cleanse the Great Lakes of pollution.

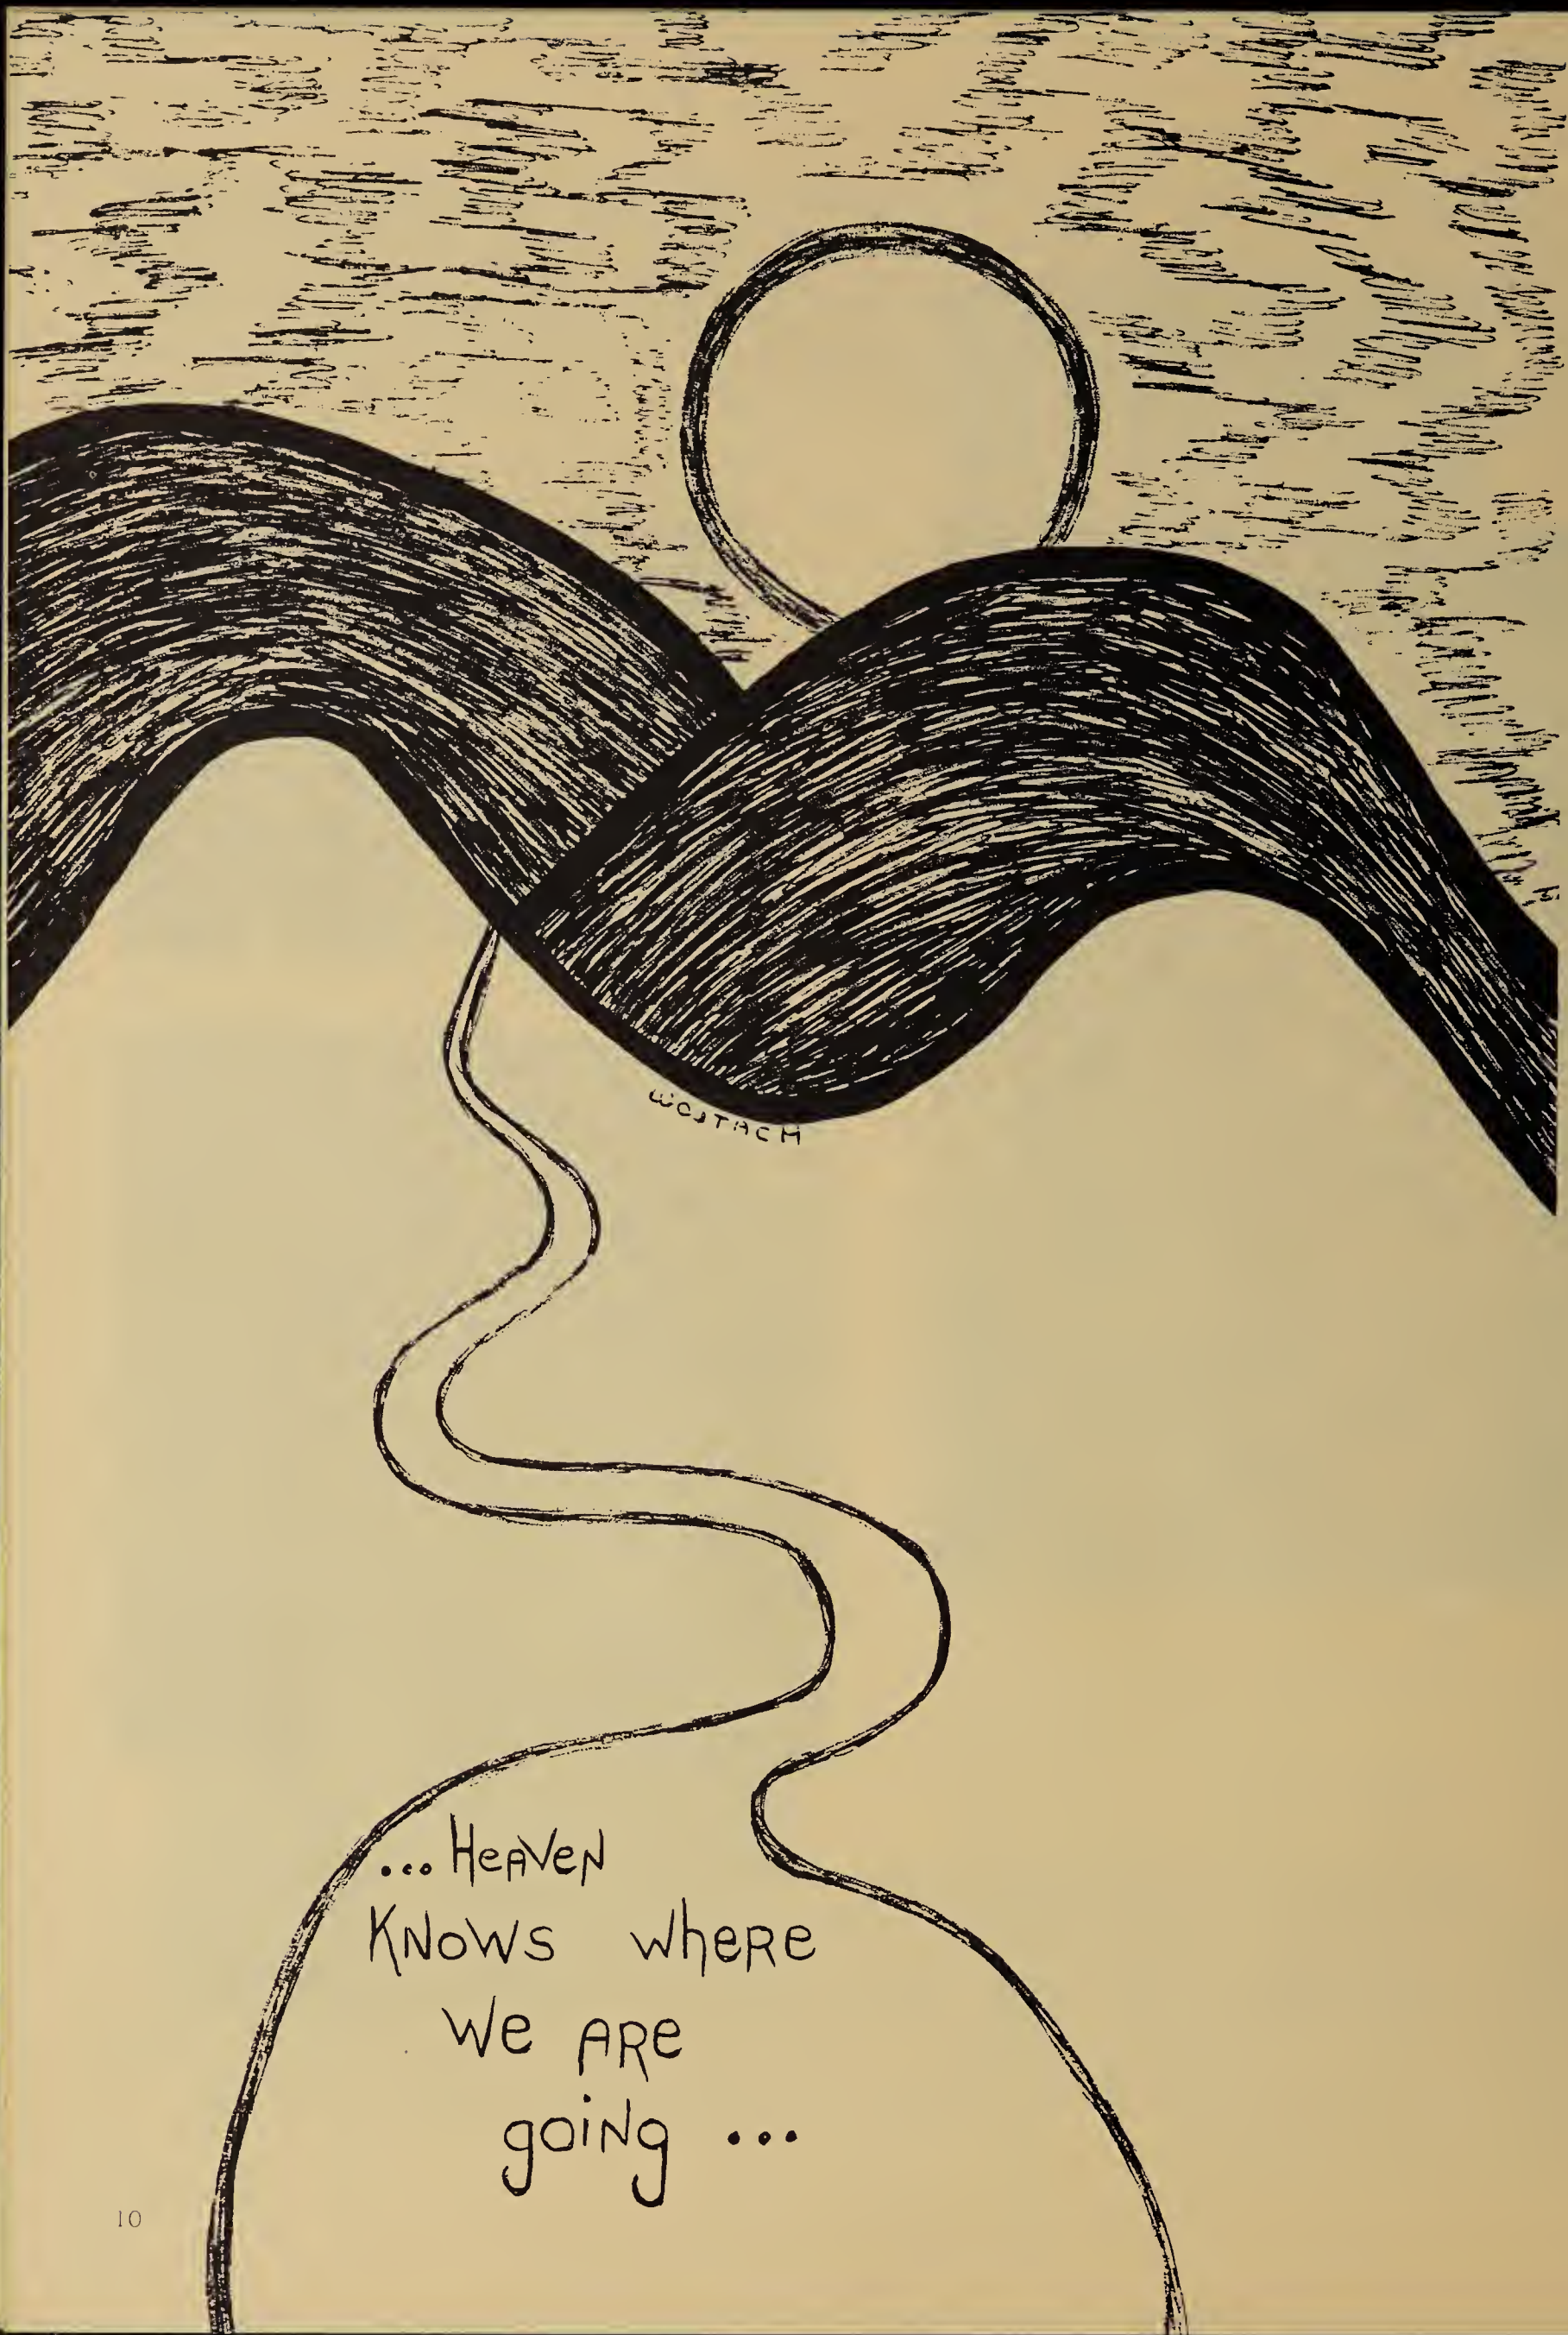

Our junior year marked the occasion of Adoption Day, when we welcomed our "little sisters" in the spirit of fun and friendship with the theme "Dreams are nothing more than wishes." A mass of tangled strings and tags led our "little sisters" to us, and we sealed the day singing, "The Puppy Song" by Harry Nilsson. Lunch followed, during which the entire student body feasted on grinders, cake and soda... September, 1972. Arab terrorists kill Israeli athletes at Munich Olympics. The games are suspended for one and a half hours in a memorial service.

"Sometimes a moment is greater than eternity; our moment is now" was our theme for the Eucharistic Celebration that noted Ring Day. Wearing shades of our class colors, crimson and cream, each of us carried a small bouquet of tea roses. Father Max Pauli CSsR was the celebrant. Our "little sisters" further marked the occasion by serving a luncheon and presenting a decorated candle to each of us. The freshmen closed the celebration singing "Love Is All Around." . . . February, 1973. The Viet Nam war ends for Americans and United States troops; peace is declared with withdrawal of American troops within sixty days.

"How does one become a butterfly?" Yellow asked pensively.

"You must want to fly so much that you are willing to give up being a caterpillar. "

"You mean to die?" asked Yellow.

"Yes and No," he answered. "What looks like you will die but what's REALLY you will still live. Life is changed, not taken away. Isn't that different from those who die with out ever becoming butterflies?"
